

Laudato Si' Daily Reflection Calendar September 1 - September 30, 2018

Daily Prayer:

Catholic moral theology should be understood not only as determining whether acts are right or wrong, But also with need to bring about change so that what is right becomes present in our society and justice replaces injustice.

– Father Charles Curran

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
	God explains himself as one who pours himself out in love, Not one who explains things. – George Coyne, S.J.					1 God chooses the weak. Matt. 25:14-39
	2 Prayer moves you to action. Mark 7:1-23	3 Serving others is our work. Luke 4:16-30	4 God invites our response. Luke 4:31-37	5 Be involved in your parish. Luke 4:38-44	6 Compliment someone today. Luke 5:1-4	7 Seek wisdom from the elderly. Luke 5:33-39
9 Treat all people equally. Mark 7:31-37	10 Put the needs of others first. Luke 6:6-11	11 Spend a few minutes in prayer. Luke 6:12-19	12 Share your wealth with those in need. Luke 6:20-26	13 Forgive someone. Luke 6:27-38	14 Show compassion to those who suffer. John 3:13-17	15 Pray for those with addictions. Luke 2:33-35
16 That all people have access to clean water. Mark 8:27-35	17 Visit someone who is sick. Luke 7:1-10	18 Pray for widows and widowers. Luke 7:11-17	19 Share the gift of joy. Luke 7:31-35	20 Appreciate your blessings. Luke 7:36-50	21 Make time to visit a nursing home. Matt. 9:9-13	22 Plant the seed of hope to those distressed. Luke 8:4-15
23 Pray for those who teach our children. Mark 9:30-37	24 Pray for victims of violence. Luke 8:16-18	25 Pray for families that are separated. Luke 8:19-21	26 Know that God loves you. Luke 9:1-6	27 Nothing is stable in life. Luke 9:7-9	28 Be comfortable in your own skin. Luke 9:18-22	29/30 Be thankful for your guardian angel. John 1:47-51

Prepared by Laudato Si', a discussion group in Quincy, Illinois, studying the encyclical of Pope Francis about our common home.